45 Are Killed in Midwest Storms

(By The Associated Press)

A series of tornadoes and destructive windstorms struck with unabated fury across 10 states in the mid-continent yesterday, killing at least 45 persons and injuring more than 300 others.

The violent spring storms, battering areas from the Midwest prairie lands southward into Mississippi, came in the wake of tornadoic winds which raked the Southwest earlier.

The casualty toll in the two days was at least 55 dead and more than 325 injured. Property damage was estimated in the millions of dollars.

The American Red Cross said its tabulation on the areas hit shows 320 homes destroyed, 969 damaged and 1,496 families affected.

Eight were killed and more than 50 injured in two Wisconsin communities. Also in the patch of the turbulent weather were sections of Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Kentucky, Nebraska, Tennessee, Arkansas and Mississippi.

The Weather Bureau in Chicago said that although the threat of tornadoes in the Midwest ended, winds from 20 to 30 m.p.h. continued. The low-pressure area causing the strong winds was near Lake Superior and headed northward into Canada.

The intense storm center in Minnesota spread ice and snow over parts of the central and northern Great Plains. Several communities in Nebraska and South Dakota were isolated. Heavy

Fayette County Case Presented

Stored Grain Tax Hearing Held, but No Action Taken

Fayette Countians who went to Columbus for a hearing before a general hearing board of the state Tax Commission Tuesday, regarding the personal property tax on wheat stored under government loan, today were still a little "not under the collar" over some phases of the procedures.

Charles Fabb, Fayette County's treasurer, who has been carrying on a verbal tug-of-war with the Tax Commission over the tax for several months, was especially perturbed because representatives of the press were barred from the hearing.

Hillsboro Again Shuns Negro School Pupils

HILLSBORO (Pa.) — It was the same story again today for Negro children attempting to gain admission at the Webster elementary school here.

Stopping at the office of Principal Harold Henry, they were told there had not been any change in the situation since the U. S. Supreme Court ruled last Monday that integration begin at once.

City Solicitor James Hapner told the mothers of the 14 children yesterday that he had not received official word of the Supreme Court decision and that the situation was unchanged. They stayed in the principal's office for a time, then went home.

The school board has said for more than a year that there is "no room" for more children at the Webster school.

The classrooms now are filled to capacity with children from the Washington school, which is being rebuilt, the board has insisted. There are 11 Negro children among the 830 pupils in the school now.

Hapner said today anything he might do in connection with the Supreme Court decision will be determined at school board meeting next Monday night. He has 25 days in which to ask the court to reconsider its action.

Hapner said the appeal, if made, would be based on the administration problems which would be involved in bringing additional children into the school this late in the year. The school year will end here May 28.

Grand Jury Told To Probe Gambling

LISBON (Pa.) — The Columbian County grand jury was instructed by Judge Joel H. Sharp yesterday to probe deeply into gambling and hints of graft along with its investigation of the East Liverpool Police Department burglary scandal.

Judge Sharp has handicapped Robert G. Hays, oil and coal dealer from East Liverpool, as jury foreman. Seven East Liverpool patrolmen have been charged with breaking and entering business places there over the last four years.

Now I know that spring is really here.

I am not basing it on the calendar, the singing of the robins and other spring birds, the warmer weather, blooming of spring flowers or any of the other numerous "sure signs" of spring.

I saw a half dozen loafers perched on the benches on the court house lawn Tuesday, and then I knew for sure that spring has really arrived.

Building Laborers Given Pay Boost

CANTON (Pa.) — A 20-cent hourly pay boost has ended a two-day strike of 700 building laborers in the Canton-Massillon area. Effective today the laborers get 15 cents of the raise.

The remaining five cents goes into the pay check Aug. 1, bringing the average rate to a range of $2.25 to $2.75 an hour. The laborers' walkout had idled more than 2,000 other construction workers.

The father's absence on Navy wartime duty was while the twins were 1 to 4 years old. "at about age 12, it was too much for Tommy," Dr. Tait testified. "He was torn between his attraction to his mother and the disapproval of this relationship (marriage) and he couldn't transfer his love to his father."

The psychiatrist said Tommy's membership in a boys' club devoted to killing pigeons indicated his subconscious desire to kill.

VIENNA, Austria (Pa.) — Reports reaching Austrian officials and diplomatic sources here say Czechoslovakia is training Egyptian officers in rocket warfare.

The Czechs for months have been schooling Egyptian pilots in handling the Communist-built jet planes and other armaments.

Czechoslovakia's Red regime agreed to sell Egypt last year in exchange for Egyptian cotton.

Capt. David E. Kerr of the motorcycle unit said there was no reason to believe the deaths were not accidental.

Ike Tops Kefauver In Wisconsin Vote

MILWAUKEE (Pa.) — President Eisenhower came out on top in a Wisconsin test of strength with Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) yesterday in a presidential preference primary that gave Democrats hope for the future, particularly in the farm unrest.

The state elected 30 delegates pledged to President Eisenhower at the Republican National Convention and 36 Kefauver delegates, with half a vote each, to the Democratic convention.

The state elected 30 delegates pledged to President Eisenhower at the Republican National Convention and 36 Kefauver delegates, with half a vote each, to the Democratic convention.

The Democrats made most of their gains in upstate rural areas where people have been hit hardest by lower milk, hog and beef prices. The Eisenhower slate gained its advantage in cities, villages and prosperous farming communities of the southern area.

Boy Burglar Suspect Held in Xenia

There were no burglaries in the business area Tuesday night and police believe there was a good reason.

The reason is that a 10-year-old boy who has been in trouble many times for various robberies and is suspected of the burglaries here recently, was arrested in Xenia in connection with theft of a truck. He is now being held in jail in Xenia.

THE FIGURES showed the Democratic delegates polling about 42 percent of the total vote—the largest percentage any Democratic candidate has run up in a spring primary in the last several elections.

The Republican Eisenhower candidates got about 55 percent of the total vote and the Chapple slate about 3 percent. Chapple's slate was entered as opposed the President's foreign policy.

In the 1952 election Republican candidates got 75 percent of the total vote. In the 1948 primary when there also was a Republican scramble for delegate candidates, the GOP entries got about 70 percent of the total races. There were no Democratic contests of consequence in either of those primaries.

In the 1952 general election, Eisenhower carried the state over Adlai Stevenson by 979,774 to 662,175, getting about 61 percent of the total vote. In the 1948 general election, former President Truman beat Thomas Dewey with about 52 percent of the total vote.

Firemen investigated the fire, a defective heater that caused the fumes. And Fire Lt. John Libens said jets on the heater and stove were still warm and all the oxygen in the flat may have been consumed. The coroner's office was unable to determine the exact cause of the deaths.

Under the U. S. plan, the nuclear phase of disarmament would not be started until reduction of conventional arms is working.

The nuclear phase would begin with a world census of atomic and hydrogen weapons, supplies and production. Then it would proceed to a system of control and inspection, a freeze on production and finally conversion of nuclear stockpiles to peaceful uses.

THE SOVIET plan, offered last week, dealt only with conventional weapons. This was a reversal of previous Russian demands that nuclear weapons must be banned as a first step to planning disarmament.

The U. S. plan also would limit military forces of America and the Soviets to 2½ million men each, while the Russian proposal would restrict them to 1½ million.

A spokesman said the United States regards its plan as workable "in the world we now are living in"—a world divided and torn by tensions in many areas. He termed the draft an informal framework which can be revised.

197 Needy Aided And Clothing Given To 299 Children

(The Record-Herald had asked a staff reporter to the hearing, which was scheduled for 10 A. M. A little after 1 o'clock, the Associated Press called to say the doors had been closed and that only general information was available. This was carried in Tuesday's Record-Herald.)

The case before the hearing board was a request for "review and redetermination" of stored wheat tax made by Ray R. Maddox, Fayette County farmer and attorney.

His law partner, Charles S. Hire, accompanied him to the hearing to conduct what amounted to an examination of Maddox, others from here revealed after the meeting. In this way, they explained, Maddox was able to better lay out a step-by-step attack on the tax law.

Although they were cautioned by the three-member hearing board not to disclose what went on at the hearing, it has been learned that Maddox repeated in general what he had contended for some time: That the wheat actually was sold to the government and that the so-called loan actually was a purchase and that was unjust to assess the tax against some farmers at the rate where the wheat is stored (much of it outside the country) in Ohio while other farmers were assessed no tax at all if their wheat was shipped outside Ohio.

ALTHOUGH they were cautioned by the three-member hearing board not to disclose what went on at the hearing, it has been learned that Maddox repeated in general what he had contended for some time: That the wheat actually was sold to the government and that the so-called loan actually was a purchase and that was unjust to assess the tax against some farmers at the rate where the wheat is stored (much of it outside the country) in Ohio while other farmers were assessed no tax at all if their wheat was shipped outside Ohio.

Fair Sets Show For Market Hogs

Swine Breeders Set New Show Schedule

The annual market hog show, a standout among Fayette County agricultural shows for nearly a decade, will for the first time become a part of the Fair this year.

In the past, the show has been held during August, at either Producers or Union stockyard.

The change that will bring the show into the Fair program was voted at Tuesday evening's meeting of the Swine Breeders and Feeders Association at Anderson's Restaurant.

Another highlight of the meeting was the decision to offer special awards to youngsters entering swine in the Junior Fair.

All 4-H and FFA pig club members will be given a free trip to the State Fair, the Association decided. Also, boys and girls signing up for swine projects for the first time will be given pig troughs.

The Association will also furnish plaques and trophies for County Fair winners in the junior and senior swine fitting and showman ship contests.

Additional awards are under consideration for junior pig club members. Suggestions include providing trips to the national 4-H convention in Chicago, giving a party for pig club members or inviting the youngsters as guests to the annual Breeders and Feeders banquet.

RULES OF the market hog show, newly incorporated into the Fair, were wrapped up at Tuesday's meeting of the association.

The show will be divided into three classes, for singles, pens of three and pens of ten. Top exhibitors in those classes will collect more than $200 in premiums and trophies.

Sponsors of the show include the association, the Fair Board, the B&O Railroad, the county's livestock buyers and other interested groups.

General rules outlined at the association meeting are:

(1) This show is open to 4-H and FFA members and all swine producers.

(2) Entries are to be made at the Record-Herald office, July 12 and 13.

(3) No entries will be accepted after July 13.

(4) Market hogs must be in place by 6 P. M. on July 24.

(5) Weighing will begin at 6 A. M. July 25, by a competent weighmaster and hogs will not be weighed for sale.

(6) Market hogs must have been owned by exhibitors for at least 30 days prior to the Fair.

(7) Hogs are to be sold July 26 at 5 P. M., including any that might have missed weight classification.

(8) Exhibitors may withdraw their hogs from sale if the chairman of the sale committee is notified by the end of the show.

(9) The swine committee or Fair Board will not be responsible for losses or mishaps which may befall animals, spectators or exhibitors.

Truck Takes Ditch To Avert Tragedy

Roland L. Brown, Newport, Ky., driving a big Albers trailer-truck on the CCC highway just south of the Cook Station Road intersection, Tuesday afternoon, swung his truck into a roadside ditch and damaged it several hundred dollars, to prevent striking school children who had just been let off of a school bus in front of a residence, and were crossing the road.

Howard Maxwell Clark, 60, of Mt. Sterling, was driving the Mt. Sterling school bus at the time.

The truck had come up over a small hill when the driver saw the children in the highway, and knew he could not stop in time, so he applied his brakes and the truck went into the ditch.

Deputy Sheriff Don Thompson investigated the mishap, and commended Brown for his quick thinking.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Clinton of North Market Street in Jefferson, Clinton will graduate this June. After that, he expects to fulfill his military obligation.

Auto Is Wrecked An Woman Injured

Mrs. Mae Grimm, of Route 6, near Bloomingburg, was painfully cut and bruised and had a close call from more serious injuries about 11 P. M. Tuesday, when the automobile she was driving left Route 7 at the Shelye turn a mile west of Bloomingburg, ran up a fence brace which was against a heavy concrete post, and turned over backward, landing in a ditch full of water.

Also at the meeting from here were Willard Perrill, a farmer and brother of Rep. Virgil Perrill and Frank Alexander, a public relations representative of the Farm Bureau in this district.

There was a feeling among those at the hearing that if their efforts on behalf of the farmers failed to relieve them of the tax this year's (on last year's crop or crops of the three previous years) it would certainly pave the way for the Legislature to wipe out the tax in the future.

An Ohio Farm Bureau Federation spokesman has advised farmers that if they pay the tax, they should pay it under protest so they could get a refund if the tax is held invalid.

Fabb really got the ball rolling about two months ago, when he took the matter up with Gov. LaFollette.

Fayette County Solicitor John Bath has told Treasurer Fabb that he does not feel the treasurer is obligated to require payment of the tax, where the taxpayer treated the transaction as a sale.

Rotarians Are Given Musical Treat Tuesday

Recent Winners In District Contest And 6th Graders Perform

A musical program which every member of the audience enthusiastically applauded and declared to be highly delightful, was presented under the direction of William Clift at the Rotary meeting at the club luncheon Tuesday at the County Club.

It was a two part program, the first section being by the group of four Washington High School students who won high rating at the recent high school solo and ensemble contest at Wilmington among talented students from 10 counties.

THE SECOND part was a group of songs by the "Sixth Grade Chorus," made up of about 35 sixth grade pupils selected for their special vocal ability from all the sixth grade pupils in the city school district.

This chorus was under the direction of Mrs. George Pensyl, supervisor of music in the grade schools of Washington C. H., whom Clift declared to be one of the very top of grade school music supervisors in the whole country.

Those who took part in the first part of the program were John Rhood, a 10th grade student, who rendered a baritone horn solo — "Old Folks At Home," accompanied by Miss Kay Minshall. Rhood won an "excellent" rating at Wilmington.

Next in this group was Miss Janice Gillen, who won a "superior" rating at the Wilmington contest with a piano solo, "Chopin Preludes."

Don Crissinger followed with a sousaphone solo — "Solo Pomposo," with Miss Janice Gillen as the piano accompanist.

This number also won a "superior" rating in the Wilmington contest.

All of these young people gave evidence of exceptional talent.

WHEN THE sixth graders filed in for their presentation with Mrs. Pensyl acting as accompanist and director, they were greeted with a round of applause and they very quickly proved that they were worthy of all the nice things that have been said about them.

This is the first year that this special chorus has been organized and with voices blending in beautiful harmony, is certain to be heard from often in the future.

The chorus sang "Allan's Holiday (Frml), "Music," a Bohemian Melody; "Marijanian," an Italian Folk Song; and finally "Happy Wanderer," (Loesser).

The group was composed of Nancy Jane Mills, Margaret Ann Hurtt, Linda Jeanne Moore, Esther Gentry, Linda Hurtt, Freda Hamilton, Jack Lytton, Ruth Ann Minshall, Danny Willis, Judith Hurless, Karen Schultz, Elsie Trimmer, Julianne Wilson, Katherine Sagar, Ronne Owen, Douglas Bray, Joretta Custer, Damon Baker, Hannah Case, Billy Halliday, Bob Helfrich, Rhona Weller, Joanne Barr, Sharon Penrod, Sharon Lynch, Barbara Shoop, Rita Whippley, Lana Jean Huffman, Linda Cottrell, Randy Bolton, Paul Preston, Sally Loudner, Cecilia Donahue and Karen Durflinger.

IN THANKING all the young people who took part and their directors, President Dougherty said that after such a presentation "I am at a loss for words." He paid high tribute to these musical students and said that all who heard them would be certain to want to hear them again.

who was in general charge of the program and who made the announcements for the contest winners. Mrs. Pensyl made the announcements for the Sixth Grade Chorus.

Previous to the musical program President Dougherty welcomed back from a short Florida vacation to the club's sergeant-at-arms Dr. Jack Persinger.

He also took occasion to bid an "au revoir" to Glen Allen who was present for the last time before he leaves for North Carolina where he assumes charge of Chamber of Commerce work for three localities, Draper, Leakeville and Spray.

COMPLIMENTING Allen highly for his excellent civic efforts while here, Dougherty said that Rotary also would miss him very much. Allen responded briefly by thanking the club members for the good fellowship shown him, said that he had learned that Rotary had proven a great help to him.

Visiting Rotarians at this meeting were Ed Milsom of Lancaster and Wilson Moon of Greenfield.

Other visitors were Roy Ratcliffe of Phillipi, West Virginia, who was with his brother-in-law, Supt. W. A. Smith; Richard Kirkpatrick with Ancel Kirkpatrick; Ben Wright with Atty. Rollo Merchant and George O'Neal with Paul Pennington.

A musical program which every member of the audience enthusiastically applauded and declared to be highly delightful, was presented under the direction of William Clift at the Rotary meeting at the County Club.

It was a two part program, the first section being by the group of four Washington High School students who won high rating at the recent high school solo and ensemble contest at Wilmington among talented students from 10 counties.

THE SECOND part was a group of songs by the "Sixth Grade Chorus," made up of about 35 sixth grade pupils selected for their special vocal ability from all the sixth grade pupils in the city.

This chorus was under the direction of Mrs. George Pensyl, supervisor of music in the grade schools of Washington C. H., whom Clift declared to be one of the very top of grade school music supervisors in the whole country.

Those who took part in the first part of the program were John Rhood, a 10th grade student, who rendered a baritone horn solo—"Old Folks At Home," accompanied by Miss Kay Minshall. Rhood won an "excellent" rating at Wilmington.

Next in this group was Miss Janice Gillen, who won a "superior" rating at the Wilmington contest with a piano solo, "Chopin Preludes."

Donn Crissinger followed with a sousaphone solo—"Solo Pomposo," with Miss Janice Gillen as the piano accompanist.

This number also won a "superior" rating in the Wilmington contest.

All of these young people gave evidence of exceptional talent.

WHEN THE sixth graders filed in for their presentation with Mrs. Pensyl acting as accompanist and director, they were greeted with a round of applause and they very quickly proved that they were worthy of all the nice things that have been said about them.

This is the first year that this special chorus has been organized and with voices blending in beautiful harmony, is certain to be heard from often in the future.

The chorus sang "Allah's Holiday (Frim)," "Music," a Bohemian Melody; "Marianna," an Italian Folk Song; and finally "Happy Wanderer," (Loesser).

The group was composed of Nancy Jane Mills, Margaret Ann Hurt, Linda Jeanne Moore, Esther Gentry, Linda Hurt, Freda Hamill, Jack Lytton, Ruth Ann Minshall, Danny Willis, Judith Hurless, Karen Schiltz, Elsie Trimmer, Julian Wilson, Katherine Sagar, Ronnie Owen, Douglas Bray, Joretta Custer, Damon Baker, H. A. Case, Billy Halliday, Bob Helfrich, Rhona Weller, Joanne Barr, Sharon Penrod, Sharon Lynch, B. Barbara Shoop, Rita Whipple, Lana Jean Huffman, Linda Cottrell, Randy Bolton, Paul Preston, Sally Loudner, Cecilia Donahue and Karen Durflinger.

IN THANKING all the young people who took part and their directors, President Dougherty said that after such a presentation "I am at a loss for words." He paid high tribute to these musical students and said that all who heard them would be certain to want to hear them again.

who was in general charge of the program and who made the announcements for the contest winners. Mrs. Pensyl made the announcements for the Sixth Grade Chorus.

Previous to the musical program President Dougherty welcomed back from a short Florida vacation to the club's sergeant-at-arms Dr. Jack Persinger.

He also took occasion to bid an official "good-bye" to Glen Allen who was present for the last time before he leaves for North Carolina where he assumes charge of Chamber of Commerce work for three localities, Draper, Leaksburg and Spray.

COMPLIMENTING Allen highly for his excellent civic efforts while here, Dougherty said that Rotary also would miss him very much. Allen responded briefly by thanking the club members for the good fellowship shown him, said that he had learned that Rotary had proven a great help to him.

Visiting Rotarians at this meeting were Ed Milsom of Lancaster and Wilson Moon of Greenfield.

Other visitors were Roy Ratcliffe of Phillipi, West Virginia, who was with his brother-in-law, Supt. W. A. Smith; Richard Kirkpatrick with Ancel Kirkpatrick; Ben Wright with Atty. Rollo Merchant and George O'Neal with Paul Pennington.

Logan Trial Witnesses Being Sought

LOGAN, Ohio (AP)—Law enforcement agencies in five counties have been alerted to watch for two missing witnesses in the second-degree murder trial of Robert Hartshorn.

The missing witnesses are Hartshorn's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hartshorn.

Authorities say the couple witnessed the fatal shooting last Nov. 29 of still another brother, Lloyd, 35, Robert, a 26-year-old junk dealer is charged with the shooting.

Common Pleas Judge Harley Meyer recessed the trial Tuesday when the couple failed to appear.

Law officials here and in Fairfield, Pickaway, Ross and Franklin counties were requested by Hocking County officials to be on the alert for the pair.

After Everett and his wife failed to appear, authorities charged two other Hartshorn brothers, Jack, 24, and Melvin, 22, with impeding and obstructing justice.

Hocking County Sheriff A. J. Waldron said a Franklin County deputy sheriff had tried to serve a subpoena on Everett and his wife and was told the couple had been returned to Logan. He said Jack and Melvin were arrested after it was learned they went to Columbus early Tuesday to get Everett and his wife to bring them here.

Lloyd was slain on their father George's farm after a fist fight at Robert's nearby home. Authorities said the fight developed from an argument over money matters. The two brothers were in the junk business together.

Jack and Melvin, prior to their arrest, testified that they saw Robert shoot Lloyd with a .22 caliber pistol as Lloyd advanced on Robert with an upraised ax.

Previously Sheriff Waldron testified that Robert "looked like he had been sorting wildcats" when he was arrested.

Pretty Girl Convinced Girl Can Be Too Pretty In Films

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Can a girl be too pretty for pictures? Lori Nelson thinks so, and she is doing something about it.

No doubt about it, Lori is one of the prettiest girls around these parts. But that is not necessarily an asset, says she. Here's her reasoning:

"Hollywood is full of pretty young girls. You see them all around. It's not too hard for a girl like me to break out of ingenue roles. I don't mean that I want to play character women. But I'd at least like to play character ingenues."

Young Lori has her eye on a role that she thinks would help her escape from playing the girl friend of film heroes. It's the part of a deaf, dumb and blind girl who is treated wretchedly until she is befriended by Joan Crawford. The picture is called "The Story of Esther Costello."

"Nobody thinks I can play it, but I do," she said resolutely.

"To prove it, I had the makeup people at Paramount fix me up so I looked a mess. I had some pictures taken and have sent them to the director, David Miller."

So far she hasn't heard, but she's hoping. And, lest the cynical suspect that it's all a publicity scheme, let me add that she doesn't employ a press agent. It's all her own idea and she's hepped up about it.

Matter of fact, she left a comfortable contract at Universal-International "because I knew I was getting nowhere playing the girl friend of Tony Curtis and Audie Murphy."

DiSalle Urges New Planning Study Group

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Michael V. DiSalle launched his campaign to capture the Ohio Democratic gubernatorial nomination at a $25-per-person dinner attended by 800 persons here Tuesday night.

The former Toledo mayor had prepared a lengthy speech outlining an 18-point program, including a proposal for a state planning group at cabinet level to evaluate the state's needs. But DiSalle tossed the speech aside and said:

"I released a speech to reporters tonight talking about state problems. But I'm just not up to giving it. I reaffirm everything in that speech." Instead, he gave a brief, impromptu talk.

DiSalle is one of five Democrats seeking the nomination bypassed by Gov. Frank J. Lausche, who is seeking election to the United States Senate. The Toledan apparently decided to discard his prepared text after a series of complimentary speeches by his fellow townsmen.

In proposing a state planning group, DiSalle said many of the present "difficulties" the state finds itself in are caused by "failure to properly evaluate and anticipate the state's needs."

DiSalle said he was in favor of a proposed bonus for Korean War veterans, expansion of the state Highway Patrol, improvement in primary and secondary roads, higher salaries for state employees and pensions for the aged pegged on needs rather than on present ceilings.

Can We Balance Budget While Spending Freely

The reports of the possibility of a balanced budget for this country seems like good news to the American people, but it also is pointed out that a balanced budget does not guarantee cuts in our public spending; therefore unless we spend less federal money there is small chance of making any substantial payments on the huge federal debt. Thus cutting of the tax burden becomes less likely.

There are two ways of balancing a budget. One is by cutting down on spending while income remains fixed; the other is to keep on spending up to the limit of income although income rises.

Two questions are in the forefront of public thinking just now in connection with public spending. One is whether we should continue to contribute huge amounts to some of our allies. The other is to decide whether we make our position worse by cutting down on military spending.

Before we grow enthusiastically optimistic about balancing our budget this year we should take a sobering look at methods we have been following.

Politicians Change Strategy

NEW YORK (P)—Some recent bulletins from the presidential campaigns indicate that the newest thing in political technique is what you might call the "Stagg-Fears - Purdue" strategy.

In this classic maneuver, you fight hard for the role of the underdog.

For instance, after the Minnesota primary, Adlai Stevenson said his defeat there showed, plainly, that he was not out in front in the race for the Democratic presidential nomination. He would have to struggle harder, shake more hands, etc.

But his canny rival, Sen. Estes Kefauver, wasn't letting Stevenson have that place in the race. A few days later, the senator assessed his own position—"behind but gaining."

This rang a small bell 'way down along memory lane.

About the time I was getting interested in football, the great Amos Alonzo Stagg was head coach at the University of Chicago. His teams were among the powerhouses in the nation, but Stagg would never admit this until after a game or the whole season was over.

Chicago's particular meat was Purdue. During one stretch of 16 consecutive years, the Boiler-makers lost every game and were unable even to score in 13 of them.

Nevertheless, on the eve of each year's Purdue game, the sports writers would find Amos Alonzo apparently sunk in gloom, the very picture of pessimism.

On the basis of his sad report, the sports pages invariably would announce, "Stagg Fears Purdue."

And then Chicago would beat Purdue 40 to 0 again.

But in politics, the approach has always been just the reverse.

By Relman Morin

(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

The candidate himself, and everybody in his organization, usually contends that everything is rosy, and that the election is in the bag. The idea is always to reflect sunny optimism and to ooz confidence.

This is particularly true in the pre-convention maneuvering. Here, the psychology is to convince delegates all over that your bandwagon is out in front and rolling, and that they should get aboard while there is yet time.

But today, neither Stevenson nor Kefauver seems to want to be the favorite. One has downgraded his outlook, and the other stoutly asserts that he is running "behind" at the moment. Both apparently are angling for the advantage that accrues to the underdog in a contest like this.

which ye shall have chosen you; and the Lord will not hear you in that day."

Samuel did not have much imagination, talking about one-tenth. Why, here, in this country, where we have no king, but only a president and a Congress, we would consider ourselves lucky if our taxes, open and hidden, came to one-tenth. Our politicians, for some reason, can only think about how to spend money but never how to save money. And they call it inflation when the people spend their own money which they earn by their own labor, but it is not inflation when the government spends the people's money, particularly on useless enterprises or to be sent abroad where it serves no particular purpose, because there it is like giving a mink coat to a gal who already has her eye on the next feller.

Signs For Cancer Of Lungs May Vary

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN
Learning to recognize cancer's various danger signals might save your life.

Maybe you already know the seven general signals. That's fine as far as it goes. But I think all of you should be acquainted with the specific symptoms of cancer wherever it may strike.

Warning Signs

Warning signs vary greatly even when the cancer is confined to the respiratory tract.

Like most cancers, those of the respiratory tract are likely to develop in later life—particularly after 40. Men seem to be more susceptible than women.

Cancer of the larynx—the area where the nose passages enter the back of the throat and where the throat enters the larynx—may be signaled by lumps or sores. Maybe swallowing will be painful or the victim will have a prolonged sore throat.

Frequent and heavy nosebleeds that are difficult to control and often seem to occur without cause, especially in young adults, may be an indication of cancer of the larynx. Another clue is a heavy foul-smelling drip at the back of the throat.

Cancer of the larynx or voice box may be indicated by a persistent hoarseness, change in voice or an obstruction to breathing. A persistent cough may be another sign.

Any extra mucus in the throat, accompanied by a frequent desire to spit, may indicate something seriously wrong. Better see your doctor also if eating or drinking frequently sends you in

This is particularly true in the pre-convention maneuvering. Here, the psychology is to convince delegates all over that your bandwagon is out in front and rolling, and that they should get aboard while there is yet time.

But today, neither Stevenson nor Kefauver seems to want to be the favorite. One has downgraded his outlook, and the other stoutly asserts that he is running "behind" at the moment. Both apparently are angling for the advantage that accrues to the underdog in a contest like this.

Your Future

Your life should proceed on the even tenor of its way; you may gain through a partnership. Today's child will most likely be exceptionally intelligent, artistic and musical.

Because early detection of bronchogenic (lung) cancer is difficult, you should be especially alert for the following symptoms.

A hacking cough which hangs on longer than the usual cold cough, especially if it produces blood. Obscure chest pain unexplained fever, hoarseness or night sweats.

Of course, these symptoms do not necessarily mean you have cancer. But they do mean you should see your doctor quickly.

The late Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) backed the decision but criticized Truman's action as a "complete usurpation of congressional" authority.

Last year when it seemed possible the Chinese Communists might attack the Nationalists China on Formosa, or their outlying islands of Matsu and Quemoy, Eisenhower went to Congress.

This rang a small bell 'way down along memory lane.

About the time I was getting in fiscal year 1954, federal spending fell from $74.3 billion to $67.8 billion. In fiscal 1955, we cut it down to $64.6 billion. This trend is now being altered for the coming year by a budgetary spending figure of $65.9 billion.

In this program, military spending is the number one element, as always. But there are evident many pressures from civilian departments to increase spending.

Our estimates also include as income a projected increase of 350 million dollars in postal rates. This is by no means a certainty.

There is also prospect of action on the planned huge highway development. If this materializes, our spending may well exceed the proposed figures by substantial sums.

We have made some progress towards financial stability, in the last three years, but increasing public pressure and demands for government aid to finance almost countless suggestions makes continuing to cut spending anything but a sure thing.

(Copyright 1956, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Place Of Hypnotism In Politics

All of a sudden, hypnotism and reincarnation and similar curiosities of human behavior become popular like Coueism and Texas Guinan at another period or the simple life in the era of Theodore Roosevelt who was the most complex of our presidents.

Perhaps in the 1956 campaign, hypnotism will become an issue or maybe the candidates will saw a girl in half like the magicians used to do in the era of Houdini and Kellar the Great. It is even possible that the unexpected and eccentric Minnesota vote for Kefauver was a product of hypnotism and that the Tennessee is not Kefauver at all but the reincarnation of William Jennings Bryan who brought about the election of Republican presidents three times. Bryan, it may be recalled, went down to Tennessee to the Monkey Trial where he established beyond pre-adventure that he was not descended from an ape.

Hypnotism was supposed to have been discovered by Mesmer but has undoubtedly been practiced by politicians as long back as there is any record, the most successful of the craft skillfully hypnotizing the masses into accepting their overlordship and paying for it. The Prophet Samuel in the Bible had much to say on the subject when he told the Jews that they should not have a king but they would not listen to him. This is what Samuel told them:

"This will be the manner of the King that shall reign over you: He will take your sons, and appoint them for himself, for his chariots, and to be his horsemen; and some shall run before his chariots.

"And he will appoint him captain over thousands, and captain over fifties; and will set them to ear his ground, and to reap his harvest, and to make his instruments of war, and instruments of his chariots.

"And he will take your daughters to be confectioners, and to be cooks and to be bakers. And he will take your fields, and your vineyards, and your oliveyards, even the best of them, and give them to his servants. And he will take the tenth of your seed, and of your vineyards, and give to his officers, and to his servants. And he will take you manservants, and your maid-servants, and your goodliest young men, and your asses, and put them to his work.

"He will take the tenth of your sheep: And ye shall be his servants. And ye shall cry out in that day, because of your King

Diet and Health

Learning to recognize cancer's various danger signals might save your life.

Maybe you already know the seven general signals. That's fine as far as it goes. But I think all of you should be acquainted with the specific symptoms of cancer wherever it may strike.

Warning Signs

Warning signs vary greatly even when the cancer is confined to the respiratory tract.

Like most cancers, those of the respiratory tract are likely to develop in later life — particularly after 40. Men seem to be more susceptible than women.

Cancer of the larynx — the area where the nose passages enter the back of the throat and where the throat enters the gullet — may be signaled by lumps or sores. Maybe swallowing will be painful or the victim will have a prolonged sore throat.

Heavy Nosebleeds

Frequent and heavy nosebleeds that are difficult to control and often seem to occur without cause, especially in young adults, may be an indication of cancer of the larynx. Another clue is a heavy foul-smelling drip at the back of the throat.

Cancer of the larynx or voice box may be indicated by a persistent hoarseness, change in voice or an obstruction to breathing. A persistent cough may be another sign.

Any extra mucus in the throat, accompanied by a frequent desire to spit, may indicate something seriously wrong. Better see your doctor also if eating or drinking frequently sends you in.

Seminary Plans Temporary Setup

CINCINNATI (AP)—Msgr. Robert Sherry, rector of fire-damaged St. Gregory's Seminary, says temporary facilities will be set up to accommodate the school's high school pupils.

The rector said that the school's first and second year college students will be temporarily transferred to other seminaries until facilities are restored.

The students were on Easter vacation last Saturday when fire raced through one wing of the school's main building.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Middle East is churning, but war between Israelis and Arabs hasn't broken out. Secretary of State Dulles says he does not foresee any crisis requiring use of American troops there.

If the need arises, he says, President Eisenhower will want to get the approval of Congress before sending troops unless there is an emergency which does not permit time for congressional action.

Dulles thus stated the right of a president to use troops in an emergency. The point became a sore one the last time a president did that.

forces into action two days after the North Korean Communists attacked South Korea in 1950. Congress was in session at the time but Truman didn't ask advance congressional approval.

Shortly before announcing his decision, he called in members of the House and Senate committees which deal with foreign affairs and got their unanimous endorsement.

Eisenhower, then a general, said the decision was "inevitable."

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said Truman should be given "overwhelming support." Sen. Bridges (R-N.H.) said the decision was a "damned good move."

The late Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) backed the decision but criticized Truman's action as a "complete usurpation of congressional" authority.

By 1952 the Republicans had made Truman's action a campaign issue. They said in their party platform:

"We charge that they (the Democrats) plunged us into war in Korea without the consent of our citizens through their authorized representatives in the Congress."

Last year when it seemed possible the Chinese Communists might attack the Nationalist Chinese on Formosa, or their outlying islands of Matsu and Quemoy, Eisenhowe went to Congress.

He asked approval to use armed forces for the defense of Formosa if and when he thought necessary.

He got it. But he didn't ask such authority because he felt he lacked power to do it on his own.

He told Congress in a special message: "Authority for some of the actions which might be required would be inherent in the chief.

Neighbor Band In U. S. Capital

117-Piece Unit On Three-Day Outing

Wilmington High School's 117-piece marching band—the pride of the Clinton County city—is on a tour today that band members will remember for a long, long time.

The whole band, along with a group of parents, is in Washington D. C. for the National Cherry Blossom Festival and for two days of tightly-packed sight-seeing.

Participation in the National Cherry Blossom Festival High School Band Contest on Wednesday afternoon is a part of the three-day event.

All of the band, along with the accompanying group of parents—a total of 156 people—left Wilmington Tuesday evening and were due to arrive in the nation's capital Wednesday morning.

Wednesday morning, they were to participate in the big band contest on the ellipse near the White House. Six other bands, from all parts of the nation, were scheduled to compete with them.

SIGHTSEEING WAS scheduled for Wednesday afternoon. In the evening, the band was planning to participate in the Cherry Blossom Festival Parade down the District's "main street."

Two more days of sightseeing were set for Thursday and Friday, with the band to return home Friday evening.

During the tour, the band should have a chance to tour all the main attractions of the capital district, including the U. S. Capitol, the Washington Monument, the Lincoln Memorial and many others.

Band members are travelling to and from the Capitol in three special cars of the National Limited passenger train.

The trip recalls for some Washington C. H. residents a trip made by the Washington C. H. High School Band to New York City in 1949. The band made the trip in order to lead the Ohio delegation to the Lions International Convention parade held there at that time.

Both the Washington C. H. and the Wilmington bands have enjoyed another bandsman's privilege—they have played at Cleveland Browns football games in Cleveland.

The conference is sponsored by the state Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction.

Mrs. Esther B. Haupt, Ohio's chief of psychiatric social services, said the conference will hear a report on the progress of Ohio's program to get elderly non-psychotic patients out of mental hospitals and into the community.

The program is designed to help relieve the problem of overcrowding in the state's mental hospitals.

Leick, 32, was convicted last Feb. 18 of first-degree murder in the strangulation slaying of his wife Evelyn, 26, on Dec. 1, 1953. The jury set the penalty at death in the state's gas chamber.

Two years earlier, another district court jury found Leick guilty of the same charge. That was overruled by the state supreme court because of technical error. The case was sent back for a second trial.

Woman Reporter Gets Taste Of True Swede Smorgasbord

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Woman's Editor

Now that I've been introduced to an authentic Swedish smorgasbord, my entertaining problems are over. From now on, when company comes, we eat Swedish.

Actually, I have learned, the smorgasbord is the granddaddy of the currently universally popular buffet meal, which is the American hostess' solution to the servant problem. In many sections of the country the smorgasbord has become a popular meal.

That's the trouble, say the Swedes. Nowadays people are calling almost any varied buffet a smorgasbord, and this is a thing that shouldn't be. So the American Swedish Monthly gave a smorgasbord luncheon authentic to the last drop of aquavit, at the New York headquarters of the Swedish Chamber of Commerce. And this is what we learned:

Never, never serve cocktails before a smorgasbord. The clear Swedish aquavit is the thing, followed by beer—not wine.

You can have a choice of items on the groaning board, but two things are essential, or it isn't smorgasbord: pickled herring and Swedish rye crisp bread.

No smorgasbord is considered a success unless each guest fills his plate three times. The first time you sample the various kinds of fish—herring, mussels, smoked salmon, smoked oysters and so on

'Excellent' Rating Given Company M

Company M, Fayette County's National Guard Unit, has received an "excellent" rating on its general fitness from Second Army headquarters at Fort Mead, Md.

This is the next-to-the-highest rating the unit could have received. Except for the size of its membership, the unit would have been rated "superior" by the Army's inspection board.

The company is "operating in an outstanding manner," according to a report issued by the inspection board. General condition was described as "exemplary."

"We're pretty pleased about it, of course," Warrant Officer Robert Goodson said in making the announcement. He added, "I don't know if any outfit around here that has received a 'superior.' They're all having the same membership problems we have, he said.

Company M's strength at the present is only 53 percent of its optimum strength, but "most units around here are in the same boat," according to Goodson.

FRESH FROM receiving its rating, the unit has announced dates and places of two full-scale maneuvers—the annual summer training camp and a weekend shooting range practice.

Range practice is set for this week end, April 7 and 8. The unit will go to the Chillicothe range at Camp Sherman near Chillicothe and spend two full days in rifle and pistol practice. The week end will give some of the unit's men a chance to qualify on their individual weapons and others a chance to familiarize themselves with weapons other than their own.

About two-thirds of the Company—58 men—has to qualify on their individual weapons. The rest of the unit's 83 men either will regularly on their own weapons or try others. The National Guard requires qualification every three years, but Company M members usually attempt qualification every year, just to be certain.

A total of 34 men in the company has to qualify on M-1 rifles, 10 on pistols and 14 on carbines.

The company will be working on the range with its 3rd battalion headquarters company from Portsmouth. It will leave here at 4:30 A. M. Saturday and return Sunday night.

Food will be served during the two-day venture by the unit's own mess crew.

SUMMER CAMP particulars announced at the same time, call for a 15-day stretch from August 5 to August 19 at Camp Breckinridge, Ky., the same place where Company M did its summer camping last year. Camp Breckinridge is about 30 miles from Evansville, Ind., and about 45 miles from Owensboro, Ky.

Details and schedules for summer camp are not set yet, Goodson said, but they should be up soon. "Perhaps we'll be working on advanced training, or perhaps we'll be on an individual basis—I'm not sure yet," Goodson said.

Ohio National Guard units will be spending summer camp time all over. Goodson asserted Groups will be going to Camp Perry, Ohio, Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. and Fort Knox, Ky. Air Force Guard groups will go to Collins Field in Michigan and Donaldson Field in Michigan and Blue Ash bases in Ohio.

Other guard units from Ohio will be going to Breckinridge, too, Goodson said. The 27th division from the Cincinnati area will go down a week before Company M and return after Company M has been there a week.

WITH COMPANY M will be the whole 168th regimental combat team, covering all of south central Ohio from Portsmouth to Mt. Vernon.

Besides going to Breckinridge last year, Company M has had experience at Indiana Gap, Pa., Camp Grayling, Mich. and at Attleberry, Mich.

The "excellent" inspection rating, received just now, was based on a general inspection March 7. Lt. Col. W. A. Edwards did the inspecting, and the general inspection board at Fort Mead, under the direction of Col. L. A. Zimmerman, drew up the final report and gave the rating.

On an inspection of chemical supplies taken during the same period, the unit received a "superior" rating. The group garnered 98 percent of a perfect score "Chemicals," in the case of this unit, refers to gas masks and respirators.

Ohio Fuel Gas Rate Boost Is Opposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal Power Commission examiner William J. Costello has ruled that the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. of Columbus should be denied an annual $1,049,000 wholesale natural gas rate increase.

Costello's ruling will become a final commission order if no review is initiated within 30 days. If his ruling is upheld, Ohio Fuel will have to refund the difference between the rates recommended by the commission and those it has been collecting since the increase became effective March 1, 1954.

The amount of the possible refund that would go to the company's 25 wholesale customers was not estimated.

Costello's decision, made public Tuesday, held that the "contract demand" form of rate proposed by the Ohio Fuel should not be allowed.

The company contended the "contract demand" rate was necessary to protect itself when anticipated requirements of customers failed to materialize after it had gone to the expense of assuring an adequate supply of gas.

Costello ruled that the company should file within 45 days a new two-part rate computed on an "average day" basis. The "average day" method is based on actual use during the preceding 12 months.

In the contract demand form, billing is at least 90 per cent of a predetermined amount of available capacity, as requested by the customer.

The proposed increase in rates was opposed chiefly by three customers of Ohio Fuel—Dayton Power and Light Co., Cincinnati Gas & Electric Co. and the City of Lancaster.

Buddy Rogers At 51, Takes Role As Parson In Western

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Buddy Rogers, 51, takes the role of parson in a Western film. He is grayer but as handsome as ever. Now he's back at movie acting.

Buddy's career dates back to the silents. He was a popular leading man during the '30s and quit films to fly for the Navy during the war. Afterwards he had one brief fling at acting, but in recent years has stuck to producing films with his wife, Mary Pickford, plus night club and TV appearances. His trick of playing all the instruments in the band has always been a showstopper.

Now he's back playing a parson in a Western called "The Killer And 21 Men." He says his merely coincidental that he is also listed as the producer.

"I never had any thought of acting again," he smiled. "But we were working over the script and the parson's part started to develop very nicely. Several people thought I should do it, and I began to think about it. I don't think Mary was in favor of it. I was 7 or 9 or 14 years old."

At 60 miles an hour, 60 barrels (3,000 gallons) of water an hour circulate through a typical auto radiator.

'Excellent' Rating Given Company M

Company M, Fayette County's National Guard Unit, has received an "excellent" rating on its general fitness from Second Army headquarters at Fort Mead, Md.

This is the next-to-the-highest rating that the unit could have received. Except for the size of its membership, the unit would have been rated "superior" by the Army's inspection board.

The company is "operating in an outstanding manner," according to a report issued by the inspection board. General condition was described as "exemplary."

"We're pretty pleased about it, of course," Warrant Officer Robert Goodson said in making the announcement. He added, "I don't know of any outfit around here that has received a 'superior.' They're all having the same membership problems we have," he added.

Company M's strength at the present is only 53 percent of its optimum strength, but "most units around here are in the same boat," according to Goodson.

FRESH FROM receiving its rating, the unit has announced dates and places of two full-scale maneuvers—the unusual summer training camp and weekend of shooting range practice.

Range practice is set for this week end, April 7 and 8. The unit will go to the Chillicothe range at Camp Sherman near Chillicothe and spend two full days in rifle and pistol practice. The week end will give some of the unit's men a chance to qualify on their individual weapons and others a chance to familiarize themselves with weapons other than their own.

About two-thirds of the Company—58 men—has to qualify on their individual weapons. The rest of the unit's 83 men either will qualify on their own weapons or try others. The National Guard requires qualification every three years, but Company M members usually attempt qualification every year, just to be certain.

A total of 34 men in the company has to qualify on M-1 rifles 10 on pistols and 14 on carbines. The company will be working on the range with its 3rd battalion headquarters company from Portsmouth. It will leave here at 4:30 A. M. Saturday and return Sunday night.

Food will be served during the two-day venture by the unit's own mess crew.

SUMMER CAMP particulars, announced at the same time, call for a 15-day stretch from August 5 to August 19 at Camp Breckinridge, Ky., the same place where Company M did its summer camping last year. Camp Breckinridge is about 30 miles from Evansville, Ind., and about 45 miles from Owenton, Ky.

Details and schedules for summer camp are not yet set, Goodson said, but they should be up soon. "Perhaps we'll be working on advanced training, or perhaps we'll be on an individual basis—I'm not sure yet," Goodson said.

Ohio National Guard units will be spending summer camp time "all over," Goodson asserted. Groups will be going to Camp Perry, Ohio, Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., and Fort Knox, Ky. Air Force Guard groups will go to Collins Field in Michigan, and Donaldson and Blue Ash bases in Ohio.

Other guard units from Ohio will be going to Breckinridge, too, Goodson said. The 37th division from the Cincinnati area will go down a week before Company M and return after Company M has been there a week.

WITH COMPANY M will be the whole 168th regimental combat team, covering all of south central Ohio from Portsmouth to Mt. Vernon.

Ohio Fuel Gas Rate Boost Is Opposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal Power Commission examiner William J. Costello has ruled that the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. of Columbus should be denied an annual $1,049,000 wholesale natural gas rate increase.

Costello's ruling will become a final commission order if no review is initiated within 30 days. If his ruling is upheld, Ohio Fuel will have to refund the difference between the rates recommended by the commission and those it has been collecting since the increase became effective March 1, 1954.

The amount of the possible refund that would go to the company's 25 wholesale customers was not estimated.

Costello's decision, made public Tuesday, held that the "contract demand" form of rate proposed by the Ohio Fuel should not be allowed.

The company contended the "contract demand" rate was necessary to protect itself when anticipated requirements of customers failed to materialize after it had gone to the expense of assuring an adequate supply of gas.

Costello ruled that the company should file in 45 days a new two-part rate computed on an "average day" basis. The "average day" method is based on actual use during the preceding 12 months.

In the contract demand form, billing is at least 90 per cent of a predetermined amount of available capacity, as requested by the customer.

The proposed increase in rates was opposed chiefly by three customers of Ohio Fuel—Dayton Power and Light Co., Cincinnati Gas & Electric Co. and the City of Lancaster.

Jeff Merchants Try-outs Sunday

Third Baseball Title Goal Of Independents

Try-outs and the first workout of the season were scheduled for the Jeffersonville Merchants baseball team for Sunday afternoon at the Jeffersonville High School lot—providing the Weatherman cooperates.

Coach Bob Hildreth of the Jeffersonville High School and manager of the Merchants said "we want everyone who is interested in playing baseball to come out...we don't care where they live."

Activities are slated to get under way at 2 o'clock.

The Tigers blew their chances for a shutout when Stork walked to open the last frame and then scored when Wical hit one through the infield and between the two outfielders for a three-base error involving four Tigers. Wical came home on another miscue before the Tigers tightened up and crushed the rally.

C. Jordan held the Sabina crew to two harmless hits and his backing in the field was errorless until the last inning.

Although their hitting could have been better, the Tigers put up an unusually clean game in the field for so early in the season.

DALLAS (AP)—Albert Monroe Dean, a one-time semi-pro who taught his two sons, Paul and Dizzy Dean, to pitch and then watched them reach great heights in the baseball world, died yesterday in a Dallas hospital.

The elder Dean, who would have been 82 next month, was a lifelong baseball fan. Born in Rolla, Mo., he played with the Fort Smith, Ark., nine as a young man.

Besides Dizzy and Paul, he is survived by his eldest son, Earl Dean, whom he also taught to pitch but who didn't play baseball professionally.

Royal Bay Gem, now at stud, won three Laurel stake races at various ages. He won the Spalding Lowe Jenkins at two, the Chesapeake at three and the Laurel Handicap at four.

Spring Sports Starting For Two Lion Squads

The Washington C. H. High School spring sports season gets underway this Friday afternoon at Wilmington when the Lion baseball squad tackles the Hurricane in the spring diamond opener. And reports indicate that the Wilmington contest.

While the baseball team has been getting set for the diamond opener, the track squad has also been in practice—and it, too, is facing an opening contest against Wilmington.

The squad, under the guidance of Coach Fred Domenico, has been groomed into peak condition over the weeks for its first meet against the Hurricane tracksters April 10 down a Wilmington.

The first of the big independent outdoor affairs is scheduled for April 14 Springfield high offers its eighth annual event. Hundreds of youngsters are scheduled to get their first tests there as they prepare for the state championship finals booked for May 25-26 at Ohio State University's Stadium.

Mansfield's cinder carnival, largest of its kind in the country, is scheduled for April 20 and 21. Last year it attracted 1,300 athletes from five states, with Cleveland East Tech taking the laurels.

The Merchants play on Sunday afternoons—for fun and the love of the sport and not for pay.

If everything goes according to plan, there will be eight teams in the SWO this year—at Wilmington, Bainbridge, Hillsboro, Good Hope, Jeffersonville, Milledgeville and two in Chillicothe, representing the federal Reformatory and the Businessmen's Club.

The Ohio Wesleyan Relays at Delaware will be held April 28, for both Class A and Class B schools. In the 25th Delaware meet each school will have four-man teams in track events, and three-man teams in field competition, with total performances deciding the winners.

Following the Wesleyan event, other smaller meets scattered over the state, come the district eliminations May 18-19. The top performers will move on to the state meet.

Plans have been made for a baseball field in the public park on Millikan Avenue, but it is not yet ready. Drainage has been taken care of and the field may be laid out this year.

Johnny Klippstein of the Cincinnati Redlegs beat Brooklyn four times in five decisions in 1955.

New York Giants Head Home With Lineup Still Uncertain

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—The New York Giants are swinging back toward the East for the National League baseball wars but they left several definite impressions when they broke training camp here.

For one, Bill Rigney, the new manager, does not yet have a completely set ball club. The second and third base positions are still open, in a manner of speaking.

The pitching looks good, headed up by Johnny Antonelli and Allan Worthington as the work-horses of the staff.

The outfield, featuring Willie Mays and his bat, is sound. The catching is quite adequate and reserve bench strength is most excellent.

Most observers honestly believe the Giants, once Rigney gets his personnel set and jelled, can be a pennant contender.

Antonelli, the hefty southpaw, should have a far better year than his 14 wins last season. Worthington, who won 19 for Minneapolis, appears ready for full time major league duty.

Backing this pair up as valuable relief pitchers will be Johnny McCall, Hoyt Wilhelm and Mary Grissom.

Jim Hearn, Ruben Gomez and Ramon Monzant complete the veteran corps, with Don Liddle capable of spot assignments.

Monzant did not pitch a game here but the club thinks he will deliver after a late arrival in camp.

Mays, Don Mueller and Jim (Dusty) Rhodes most likely will lead off in the outfield, with Whitey Lockman a most reliable fill-in and Boo Lennon, defensively valuable, the fifth outfielder.

The Giants will carry four catchers until cutting time, Wes Westrum, No. 1; Ray Katt, Ray Murray and Jim Mangan.

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

New York Giants Head Home With Lineup Still Uncertain

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—The New York Giants are swinging back toward the East for the National League baseball wars but they left several definite impressions when they broke training camp here.

For one, Bill Rigney, the new manager, does not yet have a completely set ball club. The second and third base positions are still open, in a manner of speaking.

The pitching looks good, headed up by Johnny Antonelli and Allan Worthington as the work-horses of the staff.

The outfield, featuring Willie Mays and his bat, is sound. The catching is quite adequate and reserve bench strength is most excellent.

Most observers honestly believe the Giants, once Rigney gets his personnel set and jelled, can be a pennant contender.

Antonelli, the hefty southpaw, should have a far better year than his 14 wins last season. Worthington, who won 19 for Minneapolis, appears ready for full time major league duty.

Backing this pair up as valuable relief pitchers will be Johnny McCall, Hoyt Wilhelm and Marv Grissom.

Jim Hearn, Ruben Gomez and Ramon Monzant complete the veteran corps, with Don Liddle capable of spot assignments.

Monzant did not pitch a game here but the club thinks he will deliver after a late arrival in camp.

Mays, Don Mueller and Jim (Dusty) Rhodes most likely will lead off in the outfield, with Whitey Lockman a most reliable fill-in and Bob Lemon, defensively valuable, the fifth outfielder.

The Giants will carry four catchers until cutting time, Wes Westrum, No. 1; Ray Katt, Ray Murray and Jim Mangan.

Lausche Plans To Give Talk In California

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche says he will give a non-political talk in California this month.

Lausche, widely mentioned as a dark-horse Democratic presidential candidate, reminded newsmen Tuesday that he has said he will make no out-of-state political talks until after the November election.

The governor said he will address a meeting sponsored by the Forest Lawn Foundation in connection with a fund-raising drive by denominational colleges. The speech will be in Los Angeles April 26.

While in California, Lausche said he intends to join his wife, Jane, who left Monday for San Jose to be with a seriously ill cousin, Mrs. Mary Wilcox.

Last year, Lausche addressed a non-political meeting of the Ohio Society of New York in that city, a speech which turned into a eulogy of President Eisenhower.

Ohio Truck Firm Faces Accusation

CLEVELAND (AP)—U. S. Attorney Sumner Canary has filed an information in federal court charging the Muskin Trucking Co. of East Palestine with 40 violations of the U. S. code.

The company, operated by Robert R. and Jerald B. Muskin, is accused of permitting drivers to work excessive hours, failing to file correct hours-of-service reports, and failing to require drivers to prepare logs and report truck defects.

Maximum penalty on each of the 40 counts is $100 fine.

Worst of Storm Misses County

Lights Knocked Out
For Time However

Candles and kerosene lamps were called into service Tuesday night for about 50 minutes when lightning knocked out electric power at over the south side of Washington C. H. and through parts of Fayette County.

Dayton Power & Light Company's Leesburg feeder went out about 8:50 o'clock during the evening's heavy thunderstorm, the DP&L district manager, A. E. Weatherly said and the whole area was left lightless until close to 9:45 o'clock.

The area affected included the Greenfield Pike, surrounding rural areas and the south side of Washington C. H. Among the streets affected here were parts of Leesburg Avenue, Highland Avenue, Clinton Avenue, Main Street, Circle Avenue and Elm Street and others in that area.

The lines affected were several miles south on the Greenfield Pike, Weatherly said. A DP&L crew put them back into service.

No telephone failures were sustained during the storm, according to Paul Dougherty, Ohio Bell manager here. * * *

MOST OF THE hundreds of people who were left in darkness had a case of jitters before the lights went out because of the weather forecasters warning about cyclones, tornadoes, thunder and lightning and drenching rains headed this way from out of the west.

Although they were inconvenienced by the temporary light failure, this community was spared to a large degree by the rampaging elements.

There was some rain and a light wind during the period of darkness, but the worst of the storms appeared to pass north and south of the city and county. The rain here added up to only 16 of an inch in the gauge of Coyt Stoecky, the official U. S. weather observer here.

There was plenty of thunder and lightning, but there have been no reports of damage in this immediate area.

The morning after dawned bright and sunny but by mid-morning the wind was gaining force and scudding clouds shut out the rays of the sun. Wednesday was a typical early April day with a storm threat always in the offing.

Jeffersonville Youth On ROTC Drill Team

Marvin Smith, who was graduated from Jeffersonville High School last Spring, today was in the nation's capital parading before President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Smith, who is now enrolled in the University of Cincinnati to take a course in aeronautical engineering, is one of 16 UC students in the 16-man precision drill team. This team, known as the Persian Arms, is a part of the Reserve Officers Training Corps program in which Smith also is enrolled.

The rifle drill team left Cincinnati by plane Monday and put on its show for the president Tuesday as part of a spectacle with a military backdrop that was staged in the capital.

Smith, one of the outstanding students at Jeffersonville last year, was president of his class and a star in sports. He came home last month to act as toastmaster at the school's annual athletic banquet.

Friends may call at the funeral home at any time.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Smith, who live on a farm north of Jeffersonville.

Darlington of the welfare committee, but, she said, in many cases they have been enough to "tice people over," and keep them off relief lists.

MISS HATTIE B. Pinkerton, a member of the welfare committee, praised the assistance she has received from merchants here in the purchase of children's clothing. "They have been an invaluable aid," she said, in helping her get needed clothing at reduced prices.

The superintendent said, however, that he believed the Sabina Board of Education would accept pupils from nearby areas on a permanent basis if those areas were transferred to the Sabina School District by the Fayette County School Board.

Supt. Runyan said Supt. Boyer had told him he was seeking a place for the 230 tuition pupils in Washington C. H. High School who will find the doors closed to them after this year.

Supt. Boyer told him, he said, that the Miami Trace School Board had suggested these pupils be assigned to Fayette County high schools, particularly in Bloomingburg and Jeffersonville, or be given the choice of going to out-of-county schools in Sabina, Greenfield and Leesburg.

Meanwhile, there was still another possibility for these 230 students—parents of many of them have banded together as the Rural Parents Association with the avowed intention of having at least a part, if not all, of the Miami Trace district annexed to the Washington C. H. district. If that is done, then the Miami Trace district students may attend the Washington C. H. schools as they have for many years.

Members of the Washington C. H. School Board have refrained from discussing the RPA's annexation movement or speculating on what it would do if the County School Board should ask to transfer the territory.

Captain F. William Carlson of the Cincinnati Salvation Army headquarters announced at the meeting plans for National Salvation Army Week on May 20-27. "I hope you'll do all you can here to make the week a success," he said.

Capt. Carlson also reviewed the national Army's relationship to other charitable organizations. A resolution, suggested by the national Army, setting minimum standards for such relationships, was approved by the group.

Services Held For Mrs. Montgomery

Funeral services for Mrs. Emma Montgomery were held at 2 P. M. Tuesday in the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home here. Many friends were present for the services.

Rev. W. A. Alexander read from the Scriptures, offered prayer, delivered a sermon paid personal tribute to Mrs. Montgomery and read two hymns, "Lead Kindly Light" and "In the Garden."

Active pallbearers were Floyd Mitchell, Ernest Mitman, Herbert Wilson, Ray Sebom, Eugene Ladra and C. F. Lucas.

The many flowers were cared for by the honorary pallbearers, all nurses who worked with Mrs. Montgomery at Memorial Hospital. They were Mrs. Eugene Ladra, Miss Florence Purcell, Mrs. Charles Shaper, Mrs. William Lucas, Mrs. Ralph Douglas and Miss Christine Evans.

Burial was in the family lot in the Washington C. H. Cemetery.

Graduation clothing was purchased for 31 high school youngsters, she noted. For 11 of these nearly everything to be purchased, she said, while the rest required just certain things.

She noted particularly that this year she had purchased clothing for 299 youngsters, while last year she helped only 279. "But," she said, "despite the increase, there were 121 children whom I helped last year that I didn't have to help this year."

Board Chairman W. J. Hiltz, who is also county school superintendent, praised particularly Miss Pinkerton's work. "In some cases," he said, "particularly in the instance of high school girls—the fact that the children had decent clothing made the difference between their staying in and dropping out of school."

Vote Expected In U. N. On Peace Mission

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—The United States and its Western allies pressed for Security Council approval today of a Middle East peace mission by U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold.

Chief U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., council president for April, expressed belief the council would reach a vote today on his proposal that Hammarskjold seek ways to reduce explosive tensions along the Israeli-Arab frontiers.

A vote late yesterday on the U. S. resolution was delayed when Ahmed Shukairy of Syria and Egypt's Omar Loufti said they wanted to postpone their final statements until today. Representatives of Israel, Jordan and Lebanon, the other countries immediately involved, raised no objections to the American plan.

The Western Big Three delegates rejected a Soviet charge that their governments are planning armed intervention in the Middle East under the pretext of preventing an Arab-Israeli war. The Soviet delegate charged this would violate the Arab countries' national rights.

Under the U. S. resolution, Hammarskjold would confer on the spot with Israeli and Arab leaders and with Canadian Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, the U. N. Palestine truce supervisor. The secretary general is ready to leave for the area later this week.

The first alarm at 11:55 A. M. was at the Pet Food Co. plant on Sycamore Street, where a tar kettle was on fire. No damage.

The second at 12:20 P. M. was a flue burning out at the Frank Theobald home on Columbus Avenue. Firemen stood by. No damage.

William L. Barr Dies In Hospital

William L. Barr, 73, of 828 South Main Street here, died Tuesday afternoon at Memorial Hospital, where he had been a patient for about two weeks. He had been ill about five months and in critical condition for nearly six weeks.

A native of Fairfield County, he had lived here for about five years. He was employed as a mechanic and maintenance man.

Survivors include his wife, Berdie; one daughter, Mrs. Carl Valentine of Stoutsburg and four grandchildren.

Mr. Barr was a member of the First Presbyterian Church here.

Funeral services will be held at 10 A. M. Friday at the Parrett Funeral Home under the direction of Rev. Harold Braden. Burial will be at the Reber Hill Cemetery near Circleville.

Friends may call at the funeral home at any time.

commented. "I certainly hope a satisfactory solution can be found."

SUPT. RUNYAN of the Sabina schools said there are now 18 to 20 pupils in the Sabina High School and eight in the elementary school from Jasper Township in Fayette County's Miami Trace school district. Then he added that he did not feel the Sabina High School could accommodate any more.

Supt. Runyan explained that the Sabina High School is now overcrowded and that a bond issue for an addition to the present building would be submitted to the voters at the May primary.

The superintendent said, however, that he believed the Sabina Board of Education would accept pupils from nearby areas on a permanent basis if those areas were transferred to the Sabina School District by the Fayette County School Board.

Supt. Boyer told him, he said, that the Miami Trace School Board had suggested these pupils be assigned to Fayette County high schools, particularly in Bloomingburg and Jeffersonville, or be given the choice of going to out-of-county schools in Sabina, Greenfield and Leesburg.

Meanwhile, there was still another possibility for these 230 students—parents of many of them have banded together as the Rural Parents Association with the avowed intention of having at least a part, if not all, of the Miami Trace district annexed to the Washington C. H. district. If that is done, then the Miami Trace district students may attend the Washington C. H. schools as they have for many years.

Members of the Washington C. H. School Board have refrained from discussing the RPA's annexation movement or speculating on what it would do if the County School Board should ask to transfer the territory.

However, a couple of the members have expressed the private opinion that every effort would be made to take care of the students, despite the crowded condition of the building, until a new building program could relieve the situation.

"You do have a very confusing situation there," Supt. Duckworth

Jeffersonville Youth On ROTC Drill Team

Marvin Smith, who was graduated from Jeffersonville High School last Spring, today was in the nation's capital parading before President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Smith, who is now enrolled in the University of Cincinnati to take a course in aeronautical engineering, is one of 18 UC students in the 16-man precision drill team. This team, known as the Persian Arms, is a part of the Reserve Officers Training Corps program in which Smith is also enrolled.

The rifle drill team left Cincinnati by plane Monday and put on its show for the president Tuesday as part of a spectacle with a military backdrop that was staged in the capital.

Smith, one of the outstanding students at Jeffersonville last year, was president of his class and a star in sports. He came home last month to act as toastmaster at the school's annual athletic banquet.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Smith, who live on a farm north of Jeffersonville.

(Continued From Page One) Darlington of the welfare committee. But, she said, in many cases they have been enough to "tide people over," and keep them off relief lists.

MISS HATTIE B. Pinkerton, also of the welfare committee, praised the assistance she has received from merchants here in the purchase of children's clothing. "They have been an invaluable aid," she said, in helping her get needed clothing at reduced prices.

A total of 299 children have been helped this year through the clothing program, Miss Pinkerton said. The amount of aid has varied from child to child, she pointed out, noting that some have only needed a few things, while others have had to be fitted out entirely.

Graduation clothing was purchased for 31 high school youngsters, she noted. For 11 of these, nearly everything to be purchased, she said, while the rest required just certain things.

She noted particularly that this year she had purchased clothing for 299 youngsters, while last year she helped only 279. "But," she said, "despite the increase, there were 121 children whom I helped last year that I didn't have to help this year."

Board Chairman W. J. Hiltz, who is also county school superintendent, praised particularly Miss Pinkerton's work. "In some cases," he said, "—particularly in the instance of high school girls—the fact that the children had decent clothing made the difference between their staying in and dropping out of school."

Captain F. William Carlson of the Cincinnati Salvation Army headquarters announced at the meeting plans for National Salvation Army Week on May 20-27. "I hope you'll do all you can here to make the week a success," he said.

Capt. Carlson also reviewed the national Army's relationship to other charitable organizations. A resolution, suggested by the national Army, setting minimum standards for such relationships, was approved by the group.

Vote Expected In U. N. On Peace Mission

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—The United States and its Western allies pressed for Security Council approval today of a Middle East peace mission by U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold.

Chief U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., council president for April, expressed belief the council would reach a vote today on his proposal that Hammarskjold seek ways to reduce explosive tensions along the Israeli-Arab frontiers.

A deputy sheriff estimated damage in Standale at $1 million. Hospitals in Zeeland and Holland were jammed. Some 1,000 National Guardsmen and civil defense workers moved into the stricken area.

Twisters that hit central Wisconsin killed 6 persons and injured some 50 others in Berlin, a town of 5,000, and killed 2 in Bancroft. A knitting mill factory was demolished but 90 employees escaped serious injury.

In the South, the storms struck areas in Arkansas, Tennessee, Mississippi and Kentucky. Four were killed and 36 injured in Tennessee and three were killed in Kentucky, and one in Mississippi. Two persons were killed 50 injured and some 50 homes and business places were destroyed in Lexington, Tenn. Two others were killed near Dyersburg, Tenn.

Under the U. S. resolution, Hammarskjold would confer on the spot with Israeli and Arab leaders and with Canadian Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, the U. N. Palestine truce supervisor. The secretary general is ready to leave for the area later this week.

Soft Water Will Be In Mains Next Week

Marking a new epoch in the city, soft water will be pumped into the mains regularly, starting first of the week, Emerson Warner, superintendent of the Ohio Water Service Co. here, said Wednesday.

The softening equipment is being tested and placed in readiness for full operation next week, he said.

For the past 10 days water from the new reservoir has been pumped into the city mains after being filtered. When the softening plant is placed in operation the city will be enjoying soft water for the first time on record.
